CHAIRMAN'S REVIEW

It is my privilege and pleasure to present the 2013/14 Squash New Zealand Annual Report and I do so at a time when we have so much to be optimistic about for the future of our sport. Squash was voted the World's best sport by Harvard University for one reason – it really does offer more than any other sport!

There is no denying that our numbers over the last twenty years have dropped and there is still much to do, but there are now strong structures at play in our sport, we have already seen a slight rise in numbers and we all need to get behind that momentum and rebuild our sport. Squash is a game that is built around people who get tough when the going gets tough and it is inspiring to see more of those people coming to the fore to help re-energize our wonderful sport.

When I arrived on the Board in 2010, I fervently believed that the way to build the game was from the top down. The Board needed to have a clear vision of where we wanted the sport to head and to give this message to our CE and his staff. Last year's Chair, Wayne Werder, succeeded in getting alignment between the Board, Head Office and the Districts and I believe we have cemented that alignment this year with well documented Memorandums of Understanding now in place. The re-branding at national and district level illustrated how well we can work together.

I can honestly say that the current Board, made up of Greg McKeown, Steve Dunbar, Linda Kenny, Tony Alexander and Matt Taylor have made a significant contribution to the platform that was laid over the last few years and I sincerely value the skills they bring to the table. Each one of them is there for the right reason, they believe we have a fantastic game and they are never afraid to question vigorously, at all times demanding high Boardroom standards. Well done and thanks to each of you. After four years on the Board, Tony Alexander is standing down this year – my thanks to Tony on behalf of the sport for his hard work over those four years and many at District level before that.

We now have a solid platform on which to build and this is encompassed in our Strategic Plan which is based on four pillars: Connection, Pathways, Clubs and Leadership - I personally place Clubs as the priority as we look to grow our game. Our Strategic Plan is in its second year and we will review it at the end of 2015. One area where we are weak at a National level is in our commercial alignments and sponsorship and we have plans to improve our performance. We have also made constitutional changes including changing to a hybrid version for the collection of affiliation income and moving board terms to three years which is a Sport NZ preference.

We have formally discussed where High Performance sits within our priorities and both the Board and Districts have re-confirmed HP as "High Priority". With our position clarified, we will be preparing a clear pathway for those that participate in this sector and have already agreed to contribute to the running of combined WSA and PSA events over the next three years. We are also exploring the option of hosting the World Juniors in 2017. It was fantastic to watch Joelle winning the Bronze medal in the singles at the Glasgow Commonwealth Games and I have no doubt that we will once again become a power-house in the international game. We have a great group of juniors coming through and with our current group of seasoned players we can have confidence in the future. I would add, though, that we should raise "our" aspirational bar and believe we can compete strongly at international level.

Finally, a big thank you to our CE Jim O'Grady, whom I have enjoyed working with. Thanks also to the District Presidents/staff/administrators and the coaches and referees who all do such a wonderful job. With your help, we will make a difference in the coming year!

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT

There has been a lot happening over the last twelve months starting with the World Squash Federation AGM held in Christchurch in October 2013. Once again this was an excellent opportunity for New Zealand to host an international squash event and build on the strong ties that exist between our country and the world squash community. In conjunction with the WSF AGM the New Zealand Squash Hall of Fame held an induction dinner for seven new entrants into the Hall of Fame, an occasion enjoyed by many of the visiting delegates who were in Christchurch for the conference.

This year the WSF AGM is being held in Philadelphia and New Zealand will be represented by Gerard DeCourcy who is standing for the position of Vice President of WSF, a position he has held previously. Having a voice at this level is important not only for New Zealand but also the Oceania region and it would continue a long and proud tradition of involvement on the world body for squash.

Early January 2014 saw the Oceania Junior Championships played at Palm Beach on the Gold Coast along with the Trans-Tasman Junior Test Series. New Zealand claimed six titles at the Championships to Australia's four but unfortunately lost the test series 2/0. The OJC / Test Series is an excellent development opportunity for our emerging juniors to test their skills against international competition and also gain WSF junior ranking points. Thanks to Jo Williams and Robbie Wyatt for managing and coaching the team. It was a big undertaking to look after the 21 players and they did an excellent job. In April 2015 the event will be held in Invercargill.

In July a contingent of masters headed to Hong Kong to represent New Zealand at the World Masters Squash Championships. A very successful event was capped off with a world title to Trevor Coulter in the 80+ age group showing that age is no barrier to international squash success.

The pinnacle event in 2014 was the Glasgow Commonwealth Games. New Zealand has enjoyed success at the last four games and went into this event with expectations to win three medals. Unfortunately while we were very close this did not eventuate with our only success being the bronze medal to Joelle King in the Women's singles. Joelle played a superb game to take out the bronze medal in commanding style, adding to her gold and silver medals from the Delhi Games in 2010. While the doubles produced no medals there were some very encouraging signs from our games debutantes which bodes well for 2018. Thanks to Dave Clarke for his doubles expertise and management of the team and to the team coach, Paul Hornsby.

Congratulations to Glenn Carson, who officiated as a referee at the Glasgow games. Glenn is now a WSF regional referee / assessor and his selection for the games is the culmination of many years of dedication and hard work.

In August our Junior Men's Team competed at the World Championships in Namibia finishing in 18th position. While disappointing, the result highlights the need for a strong junior development programme and international experience. There are some talented juniors coming through the ranks now and it is important that this talent is given every possible opportunity to flourish.

Our national tournament calendar is arguably one of the best in the world and continues to be the corner stone of our competition structure. With over 400 events on the calendar and more than 100,000 match results entered into iSquash each year it is without doubt the heart and soul of our game. Building on this platform, a national events rotation policy has been introduced to ensure that every district has the opportunity to host a major national tournament on a regular basis, which will help to lift the profile of squash in the regions.

Programme development has been a priority for the national office and in July this year Kiwi Squash was launched. The programme targeted juniors from 5-12 years of age and now that the Small Nix and Big Nix manuals are complete the focus shifts to the older age groups and adults. Clubs, schools and districts have been quick to adopt the resources for their junior club and school programmes throughout the country. Concurrently within the national coach development framework, facilitators have also been trained to teach people how to deliver Kiwi Squash.

Squash Start is the second stage of this programme development and focuses on beginners from 13+ years of age through to adults. It will include a number of specific marketing campaigns that are targeted at these groups and again will be supported by coaching modules that are aligned with Squash Start.

Throughout the year there have been enhancements and new features added to iSquash to improve its look and feel. The biggest change was the introduction of the Combined Grading List early in 2014 and thanks go to the advisory group led by Michael Pittams who developed and introduced this major upgrade to the grading system. Other changes included enhancements to the tournament module, new draw functions in the interclub module and improvements to online booking. Further changes are planned to improve Play2Pay functions for the clubs that have the iSquash access system installed.

At a governance level the Board of Squash New Zealand, led by Tony Johnston, have continued to provide solid leadership and direction for the sport in an increasingly difficult environment. For non-targeted sports, high performance funding comes in the form of campaign investment where success is absolutely crucial to securing ongoing future funding. It is hard to see how a high performance programme could operate without the support received from HPSNZ and squash will face a real challenge in the next round of campaign investment in light of the outcomes from Glasgow. The recently released draft Community Sport Strategy by Sport NZ may also have an impact on future funding for some sporting organisations.

In other changes seven clubs, who previously were part of Squash Wellington, became member clubs of Squash Canterbury in early 2014. After consultation the clubs decided their interests might be better served by amalgamation with Canterbury and unanimously agreed to the change. At this year's mid-year President's meeting a new hybrid affiliation model was introduced which incorporates part of the previous SEM model with the addition of a new grading list levy. The levy will be introduced for the 2014 / 2015 financial year and will be trialled for a two year period.

One of the highlights this year was the rebranding exercise undertaken by SNZ and the eleven member districts. The new brand conveys a dynamic, distinctive and fresh look for our sport and has been enthusiastically adopted throughout the country. It has given our sport a true global identity where everyone belongs to the same New Zealand squash family. Special thanks must go to Grant Smith who oversaw the project from start to finish, producing a legacy that we can be proud of for years to come. The support and willingness of every district to be part of this exercise is also recognised.

There are a number of people I want to thank for their ongoing contributions - our patron, Dame Susan Devoy, the SNZ Board, Michael Sumpter (Honorary Solicitor), Rob Walker - twenty years at Club Kelburn and still going strong, Bruce Davidson and the National Squash Centre Trustees, Trevor Colyer (NSC Manager), Don Cotter and the Hall of Fame Committee, programme directors Chris Buckland (Referees), Wayne Seebeck (Masters), our referees, selectors, coaches and the volunteers who contribute so much throughout the year.

Finally, thanks to Pennie, Michelle, Michael, Paul, and Jason. It is a small team who are often called upon to provide cover for each other when it gets busy and they do a superb job. There are some changes looming however with Pennie taking maternity leave at the end of this year and Michael heading off for a couple of years of OE early in 2015. It has been a pleasure working with two very talented individuals who will leave a lasting impression on the sport and I would like to wish them well for the future.

Jim O'Grady

Chief Executive, Squash New Zealand

HIGH PERFORMANCE REPORT

As I sit at my computer and attempt to reflect upon the last year, it has made me realise what a whirlwind it has been. 12 months filled with travel, triumph and disaster!

Senior National Squad

Every professional athlete works hard every day of their lives with the dream of producing moments of perfection - the complete performance on the biggest stage. This isn't something that happens more than a handful of times in a player's career, but I have been fortunate to have witnessed this come together on numerous occasions over the past year. Joelle's complete domination of the bronze medal match in Glasgow, Campbell Grayson producing the biggest win of his career - beating Nicholas Mueller 3-0 in the US Open, Martin's exceptional performances in the finals of the PSA events in Palmerston North and Invercargill, Paul Coll and Lance Beddoes punching well above their weight and almost causing the upset of the Commonwealth Games in the quarter-finals of the Men's Doubles event in Glasgow.

The other end of the scale for an athlete, their worst possible nightmare, is long term injury. Joelle rupturing her Achilles in the final of Senior Nationals left people at North Shore Squash Club absolutely stunned. For me (receiving a text message as I sat in Johannesburg airport on my return journey from the World Junior Champs in Namibia) the realisation that she would be sidelined for a whole international season, losing the ranking points she had worked so hard for - I felt numb. The road to recovery will be long, with the aim of returning to professional competition in mid-2015. From here, she will begin to rebuild her ranking from scratch and aim to return to the top four and beyond over the following 12 months. Having spoken regularly to Joelle throughout her rehabilitation so far, it has been a testament to her character how positive she remains, with absolutely no doubt in her mind that she will bounce back stronger.

Evan Williams has sat out of all PSA events for the past 12 months and has therefore also lost all of the ranking points he had accumulated. However, after successful surgery to repair his wrist injury, we are delighted to see him back in action as he begins life on tour again.

Elsewhere in the Senior National Squad, Campbell Grayson and Martin Knight have continued to work hard and have maintained world rankings in the 40s. It has been great to see our younger crop of male players spreading their wings and gaining precious exposure overseas. Paul Coll has spent time in Holland, training with several top 20 players. Lance Beddoes, Ben Grindrod and Chris van der Salm have all spent time training in England where they have set up useful links with various coaches and groups of professional players.

Amanda Landers-Murphy is now back to full fitness and is making headway again on the world rankings after her back injury. Again, Amanda is taking advantage of her travels by setting up a training base in Northern England in the lead up to the Women's World Team Championships.

Megan Craig earned herself a couple of amazing opportunities to experience matches of the highest level over the last year. She played in her first World Open in March, where she played very well to qualify and drew former World number 2, Jenny Duncalf in the first round. On top of this she played Nicol David at the Commonwealth Games. These are the kind of experiences that young players need to inspire them to compete in the bigger events in order to grow and learn.

Current New Zealand World Rankings are as follows (October 2014):

PSA

46 Campbell Grayson
47 Martin Knight
90 Paul Coll
143 Lance Beddoes
145 Kashif Shuja
180 Ben Grindrod
213 Chris Van Der Salm
286 Zac Millar
311 Evan Williams

355 Jason Van Der Walt
376 Andrew Ellis
388 Max Trimble
397 Scott Galloway
399 Jamie Skiffington
439 Alex Grayson
453 Chris Lloyd

WSA

4 Joelle King
50 Megan Craig
52 Amanda Landers Murphy
53 Kylie Lindsay
127 Larissa Stephenson
164 Abbie Palmer
222 Juee Bhide

The following international titles have been won by New Zealand Players in the last year:

Campbell Grayson

Thank you to all of the coaches who have led the delivery of the junior training camps over the past year:

- Joanne Williams: National Junior Girls Coach
- Robbie Wyatt: National Junior Boys Coach
- Tony Marsh: Strength and Conditioning Coach

Thanks must also go to the assistant coaches who have helped at camps throughout the year: Lindsey Walters, Mike Allred, Jason Fletcher, Glen Wilson, Nick Mita, Michael Sunderland, Phil Buscke, Joelle King.

Talent Development Centres

2014 saw the introduction of a fourth Talent Development Centre, meaning that the country was split into the following regions:

- Upper North Island (Auckland & Northland)
Head Coach - Mark Waldin
- Central North Island (BOP & Waikato)
Head Coach - Lindsey Walters
- Lower North Island (Eastern, Central, Wellington)
Head Coach - Jason Fletcher
- South Island (Canterbury, Otago, Midlands, Southland)
Head Coach - Mike Allred

Thank you to all of the above and also to those who have assisted in the delivery of the camps for their efforts in ensuring our younger crop of players are being taught the correct technical and tactical messages early in their careers.

Women's Winner National Championships Megan Craig

Personal Thanks

As usual, there are many people who help in ensuring we deliver a quality High Performance programme, whose efforts must not go unrecognised.

In the Squash New Zealand office, Michael Pittams works hard to ensure events are in place for our leading players to compete and perform. He also deals with the vast majority of correspondence between SNZ and parents. On top of this, he dealt with a huge amount of administration work around the Commonwealth games. Thanks mate, you do a great job!

Michelle Rogers also puts many hours into ensuring all logistical arrangements are in place for junior camp activity and overseas travel for me, and our representative teams.

Although Dave Clarke left his role as coaching director for SNZ back in 2013, he has once again been a critical part of the Commonwealth Games team. His expertise in the game of doubles was a huge help to me and the players in preparation for and during the games themselves. In Glasgow, his efficient management and organisation enabled myself and the players to focus solely on the on court action.

Tony Marsh continues to be a popular and important member of the High Performance team. He provides remote strength and conditioning support to our travelling players and maintains regular contact with them. He attends all of our junior camps to set generic training programmes for squad members. On top of this, he regularly takes the time to come along to watch squash events here in New Zealand.

One of the tougher parts of the programme is team selection, and I want to recognise the help and support I have had from Michel Galloway and Mike Martin as our senior selectors, and Pat McHugh and Aileen Buscke who have helped at junior level.

And finally...

This year, I want to make a special mention of my wonderfully supportive, patient and understanding family, who have been through some testing times this year whilst Daddy has been gone for weeks on end.

Paul Hornsby

DEVELOPMENT REPORT

Our brand new national school programme, Kiwi Squash, was made available earlier in the year through a soft launch. Feedback from the Roadshow was very positive, particularly from Regional Sports Trust with one declaring it the best junior/school programme from all sports! There has been some uptake by Districts and clubs but we recognise that it will take some time for the programme to ingrain itself across the country. Kiwi Squash resources include a resource manual of eight lessons, a DVD of all activities, promotional material and a coaching module. All resources are available on our website, apart from the manual.

Thanks to funding from Pub Charity, we are in the process of developing Squash Start, a beginner squash programme that can be used to introduce squash to anyone aged 13 years and over. Resources will include a manual and DVD. In its first year, we will launch two programmes that can utilise the Squash Start resources – Squash Ignite, aimed at teenagers and another programme (yet to be named), aimed at social squash players, but particularly those aged 20-35 years. We hope to launch Squash Start and the first two programmes in January 2015.

Engaging with our squash community through strong communication is seen as a key focus area for Squash NZ. The rejuvenated website is continuously updated and is kept current. Our Facebook page has grown to over 2200 fans and twitter has 400 followers. Our regular e-newsletter is now sent to over 22,000 squash players. Communication has become two-way with much more engagement with the squash community, particularly through Facebook.

A National Roadshow was completed earlier in the year, hosting events at 14 clubs, with 200 squash volunteers attending. In addition to this, we also met with 15 of the 17 Regional Sports Trust, introducing Kiwi Squash to 32 staff. This was also a good opportunity to meet with our District Associations, where we discussed collaborative approaches with 41 District representatives.

We have provided support to our affiliated clubs through our ever-growing database of resources, templates and case studies. We have continued our partnership with Crombie Lockwood to offer collaborative insurance with the BounceBack scheme and have also introduced partnerships with the drinks company Frucor (Gatorade) and the fitness programme SquashFit. We have hosted a Development Forum, providing District staff with an important opportunity to share best practice and work together. A National Facility Database is near completion, identifying all squash courts in the country and next year we plan to embark on a national survey to identify the priority areas for development across facilities.

We have continued developing iSquash and its many modules, with significant improvements to the tournament module and online booking. Nearly 20% of our affiliated squash clubs use iSquash Online Booking (37 in total) with positive feedback and suggestions for improvements constantly received. We have released a number of improvements to iSquash, particularly in the Online Booking and Tournament modules, including three new draws which clubs had been asking for since the module was released. Clubs with Online Booking can now take visitor payments online and we are almost ready to launch online tournament payments. Coaching and refereeing qualifications are now recorded in iSquash which gives individuals, clubs, Districts and Squash NZ the ability to easily see a record of modules completed and allows for individualised communication. We now have four clubs utilising iSquash Access with the addition this year of North Shore SC and Christchurch Football SC. Otago SC and North Shore are still working on their Pay2Play abilities but members of the public can now book and pay online to play squash at Squash City Invercargill and Christchurch Football SC.

It has been a busy year developing programmes and tools for clubs to use. With these resources now in place, we see 2015 as the year to work with Districts and Clubs to support them in the implementation and delivery of these national programmes.

Pennie O'Connor
Development Director

NATIONAL COACHING REPORT

Coach Development Framework

Thanks to the work done previously by Dave Clarke and the Coaching Advisory Panel, Squash NZ have led the way with a Coach Development Framework which continues to be viewed as best practice in New Zealand Sport.

The next modules to be launched in conjunction with the Squash Start programme are Club Youth and Adult Starters.

Club Teams and Athlete Development are scheduled to be the next modules developed.

More Coaches

In the last year 134 new coaches have joined the framework through 265 module deliveries. We now have 938 individual coaches who have taken part in 2,319 coach development modules since 2010. Big thanks to the District and facilitators for the great job that they have done in promoting and delivering the coaching framework.

Once again the feedback has been extremely positive with over 95% of respondents rating the module delivery as either 'very good' or 'good'.

CoachForce Projects

Districts were again invited to apply to Squash NZ for project funding for coaching related projects across the country. This was done in conjunction with funding from the New Zealand Community Trust, whose assistance is gratefully acknowledged. In 2013-2014 applications were for activity from October 2013 – September 2014. We saw some great projects put in place, not just around the delivery of the modules but also assisting club junior and senior coaching programmes, informal workshops and ongoing coach mentoring. New contracts will be forged in October 2014 through till September 2015.

Coach of the Year Awards

The Coach of the Year Awards were adapted in 2010 to align with the New Coach Development Framework offering 3 awards, New Coach of the Year, Club and School Coach of The Year and Performance Coach of the Year. The deserved winners for the 2013-2014 year were

- New Coach of the Year - Sally Stantiall (Central)
- Club and School Coach Of the Year - Graeme Randolph (Bay of Plenty)
- Performance Coach of the Year – Kashif Shuja (Central)

Performance Coach Advance

The Performance Coach Advance programme is a new initiative in 2014 run by Sport New Zealand and is designed to improve the quality of coaches working with pre-elite emerging athletes. It is a development programme delivered by Sport New Zealand coaches and regional coordinators, and brings together coaches from a wide range of sports. The programme is offered in six regions of the country, and priority is given to High Performance Sport New Zealand 'targeted' sports (of which squash is not one). To have four coaches selected to be part of this programme was a huge achievement and the feedback from the coaches involved has been very positive.

The Coaches selected

Joanne Williams	Waikato
Robbie Wyatt	BOP
Nick Mita	Wellington
Mike Allred	Canterbury

Summary

There has been some consolidation as I have been finding my feet in the role. Special thanks to the Coaching Advisory Panel Paul Sykes (Northland), Graeme Randolph (BOP) Grant Watts (Central) and Pat Barwick (Canterbury) for their advice and support.

Some districts have continued to make great strides in the coach development area while some others have found the going a bit tougher for a variety of reasons.

Big thanks to all the coaches out there for their efforts.

WSF REPORT

There is still hope for the inclusion of squash in the 2020 Olympics. In late 2013 the 2020 Olympics were awarded to Tokyo and the programme of sports was apparently settled. Squash missed out which was a blow to World Squash. A subsequent change in IOC President appears to be bringing a different approach to settling the Olympic programme.

The Olympic programme has been limited to 10,500 athletes and 28 sports. The sports have had a large say in the particular events that are held under the umbrella of their sport. There now seems a greater willingness for the IOC to take control of the events that are in the Olympic programme. That paves the way for the exclusion of certain events and the addition of new sports.

It is known that Tokyo are very keen to have baseball included which is a major sport in Japan. Baseball/ softball and squash have been closely aligned and have similar levels of support for their inclusion in the Olympic Games.

In late 2014 the IOC session will consider a proposal to hand greater control of the Olympic programme to the IOC Executive Board. If this is successful then the Executive Board will in the first quarter of 2015 consider the events for the 2020 programme. There have been reassuring noises that the current IOC President has been sympathetic to squash's bid for inclusion. There is still hope!

World Squash has introduced a Squash Person's Identification Number (SPIN) which is a worldwide player registration system to ensure that when an international event is held the details of the players are correct. Registration is done online. The masters who played in the World Masters' Championships in Hong Kong all registered and will now have a SPIN number.

The World Squash Conference was held in Philadelphia in October 2014. The previous AGM in 2013 was held in Christchurch, New Zealand. There was considerable feedback from delegates this year complimenting Squash New Zealand on the high level of organisation of the event and indicating how much they enjoyed visiting New Zealand. The AGM passed a new Anti-doping Code based on the updated WADA rules.

A highlight of the competitive year was the Glasgow 2014 Commonwealth Games. The New Zealand team performed admirably and congratulations to Joelle King who won bronze. Squash was televised and it was apparent that huge strides have been made in the televising of squash. The white ball is seen clearly against the grey floor and high definition televisions makes squash very watchable. At the venue there are four large television screens erected above the court so spectators from all angles can view replays. Players also have television reviews where the television match official rules on on-court incidents.

The changing of rules for doubles has finally meant doubles is a credible and interesting competition on television. It is likely the Commonwealth Games have saved doubles which had previously been marked by very lengthy and somewhat monotonous rallies.

The Hong Kong Masters was attended by a large number of New Zealanders. About 800 players took part in the event based in two venues. New Zealand won one of the age groups (Trevor Coulter 80+).

World Squash has developed two resources that will be useful. There is a poster "Squash – Getting Started" which gives an overview of the game and rules. There is also a guideline for doubles, referees, players and organisers. These are available from www.worldsquash.org.

There has been an interesting development in the professional area. There is a proposal that the PSA and WSA (the men's and women's professional tours) will merge. This is subject to player approval but appears likely to go through. It will be accompanied by a commitment by the professional body to equal prize money for men and women.

The Women's World Team Squash Championships

take place in Canada at the beginning of December 2014. The World Junior Squash Championships took place in Namibia in August 2014. The New Zealand team came 18th in a very tough competition.

The World Squash Ambassadors Programme takes some professional players to a developing country to promote the game. This year it occurred in Papua New Guinea and was gratefully received by the locals. Papua New Guinea has become the latest full member of World Squash.

This year the Women's Squash Association (WSA) marked its 30th anniversary. It was founded in February 1984 and has had a strong New Zealand involvement. The first world ranking list was topped by Dame Susan Devoy who went on to achieve an unprecedented 105 months as the world's number one. The Founder Chairwoman was New Zealander Robyn Blackwood.

The 2014 Men's World Squash Championships will be held in Qatar in November 2014.

COMMONWEALTH GAMES 2014

Glasgow Commonwealth Games 2014 Event Report

Preparation and planning for 'Squash's Olympics' had been a long and detailed process. The Squash Team was announced in late May and we were delighted that the NZOC had accepted all of our nominated athletes into the team. These were:

- Joelle King
- Megan Craig
- Amanda Landers-Murphy
- Kylie Lindsay
- Campbell Grayson
- Martin Knight
- Paul Coll
- Lance Beddoes

The squash coach was myself, and the team manager was Dave Clarke.

Aside from Joelle, all players were selected to go to Glasgow to play doubles. With this being such a different discipline to singles, our challenge was to identify opportunities for players to get together to train and play in order to learn to adjust to the (very) different court dimensions, increase their abilities & understanding of the tactics and also for us to work out our most effective partnership combinations. This was not an easy task as we had to balance these activities with players' movements around the world playing on the PSA/WSA tours, plus try to find ways of getting competition against the other leading nations- very difficult with uncertainty around the World Doubles event (which was cancelled in the end). Eventually we managed to secure some dates in June to play a tri-series doubles event in Kuala Lumpur against Malaysia and India, which gave us valuable playing experience, as well as further confirmation that we had our pairing combinations right! In addition to the four doubles camps we had held, the Australian Doubles Event (against Australia and Scotland) and our National Doubles Championships in Palmerston North, we felt that we had struck a good balance and were ready for the biggest challenge: the Games themselves in Glasgow.

The team left New Zealand on July 19 in order to give ourselves plenty of time to recover from the 40 hour journey and acclimatise to the time zone. On court practice sessions were focussed on singles initially, with the intensity of these sessions increasing day by day. By the time the first round came along, the players were sharp and ready to go. Although selected as doubles players, Campbell, Martin, Paul, Megan and Amanda had been granted permission to play in the singles event too. I was delighted by how these players performed and competed against some of the World's leading players. One standout performance was by Campbell against number four seed Saurav Ghosal of India. Having led 2-0 and also having a 6-1 lead in the fourth game, Campbell eventually lost an epic match of clinical shot making and incredible retrieval. The squash venue was packed with over 2500 spectators who gave the players a standing ovation at the end. This is something I have never witnessed in a squash event and a moment I will never forget! Megan did herself proud on the glass court against world number one Nicol David, taking plenty of points which were well earned. Martin had a tough day against a very sharp number two seed James Willstrop, but fought until the very end as Martin does, taking a handful of points in each game. Amanda had a tough draw and faced former world number two Jenny Duncalf in the opening match. Paul played well, but struggled with the speed and accuracy of Saurav Ghosal, losing in three sets. Our medal hope in the singles event was Joelle. As number three seed in the event, this was a real possibility. However, the draw that she faced had tough opponents right from the last 16 stage where she would face a fast improving Indian player Joshana Chinnapa. The first game was some of the best, most aggressive but controlled squash I had seen from Joelle. Although it was closer, this continued throughout the second to see Joelle lead 2-0. Joshana dug deep and pinched the third game, before Joelle regained control in the fourth to progress to the quarters where she would meet Ireland's Madeline Perry, to whom she had lost in their two previous meetings. Another excellent performance by Joelle. Joelle moved particularly well during this match - a comfortable 3-0 win against a dangerous player. Onto the semi-finals now against World Number 1 Nicol David! Going into the match, we felt confident that another performance like the previous day would cause Nicol a lot of problems. Joelle once again played some great squash, but it appeared that whatever she threw at Nicol would come back with interest. A few too many errors from Joelle in this match, but it has to be said that it was a very impressive performance by Nicol, who went on to win the gold medal in a very one-sided final against World Champion Laura Massaro the following day. Following the disappointment of losing to Nicol, Joelle needed to quickly shift her focus in order to come back the following day to be at her best in the bronze medal match. Not only did Joelle manage to win the match, the way she performed was exceptional. The best match I have ever seen from her, and it was particularly satisfying to see many of the elements of her game that she has worked hard on for the last few years come into place. Her movement was smooth and explosive, she attacked the front corners with accuracy without making errors, her length was consistently superb, she defended and re-built the rally when required, and most of all kept her emotions under control throughout. A very proud day for her.

Doubles Events

There was plenty of positive energy amongst the players as we moved into the doubles event following some excellent performances and picking up one medal in the singles. Five of our six pairings were seeded to progress through the pool stages (and eventually achieved this), although there were to be some tough matches and great performances along the way!

Paul and Lance surprised a lot of people by beating fellow countrymen Campbell and Martin in the last 16 round. However, the biggest surprise was still to come as they took to the court against third seeds James Willstrop and Daryl Selby in the quarterfinals. This was an intense, emotional rollercoaster of a match: filled with controversy. The Kiwi boys will still be lying awake at nights wondering how this match was taken away from them! After losing the first game, Paul and Lance showed their ability as a strong partnership by taking the second and forcing a decider. Then the fun began! The English pair picked up numerous double bounces, which were clearly confirmed on video replays as well as a camera picking up Selby's admission to these and stating that he wouldn't be calling anything down! Having lost the deciding game 11-9, and having at least four points taken away from them, our calculations are that they in fact won the match. A tough way for our younger players to be knocked out of the event. We should all be very proud of how Paul and Lance played, but more importantly, how they held their heads high and conducted themselves in the situation.

We were close to another monumental upset in the women's doubles. This came from Megan and Kylie against Nicol David and Low Wee Wern of Malaysia. Having won the first game, they fought hard in the second game to secure a match ball at 10-10 (sudden death). After a long, tense rally, Low Wee Wern over-hit a drive down the middle and with Kylie in position to attack it, the ball rolled out of the back wall nick! The Kiwi girls went on to lose the decider and subsequently finished third in the pool, meaning it was all over for them. Our leading women's pair of Joelle and Amanda played well in the pool stages to finish second, having lost a very close match to a strong English pairing Alison Waters and Emma Beddoes. This match could have gone either way, and it would prove to have a major impact on the draw for the quarter-final line up. Joelle and Amanda were drawn to play the very skilful and strong Indian pairing Joshanna Chinappa and Dipika Pallikal. Our girls played well and led for most of the first game, before the Indians fought back and had too much control from then on, taking the match 2-0. The Indian pair went on to win the gold medal in a one-sided final.

Onto the mixed doubles, and our exciting younger pairing of Paul and Amanda proved that the combination of court coverage and shot making was very effective. They put in a solid performance to beat the experienced Scottish pairing of Alan Clyne and Frania Gillen-Buchart to seal a place in the quarter finals. It was unfortunate that their next match against Cameron Pilley and Kasey Brown followed immediately onto the court after Paul and Lance's epic battle against the English. The Kiwis struggled to get into the match, losing 2-0. Our leading pair of Joelle and Martin came into the event as second seeds. Having eased their way through to the quarters, they had to dig deep to turn around a 0-1 deficit against Indians Joshana Chinappa and Harinderpal Sandhu to secure their place in the semi-finals. Here, they would face very tough competition from a left/right handed combination Pater Barker and Alison Waters. Unfortunately, this was a one-sided match and we were on the receiving end of it! All to play for the following day in the bronze medal match against the same pair that they had lost to in the final in Delhi four years previously. This match was incredibly close from start to finish. Having pinched a close first game, the Kiwis went on to take a small lead early on in the second before the Aussies fought back to level. The decider could not have been closer and at 8-8, the Aussies pinched two quick points to seal two match balls, which they won on their second attempt. A very tough loss for us all to take. This was our last remaining hope of a doubles medal and one that we were extremely close to getting. This was Joelle's 14th match in 11 days. Understandably, having had all of our medal hopes on her shoulders, she was emotionally and physically drained, but we must all be very proud of her and the team for their performances throughout the whole event.

Although we were two medals short of our target (three), it is difficult to see how our players could have performed any better. In the singles event, Joelle produced the event of her life, winning the bronze medal and in doing so dispatching of several of the world's leading players with ease.

Failure to pick up any medals in the doubles was tough to take, but upon reflection, our players were punching well above their weight against some of the world's leading and most experienced players.

I feel an overwhelming sense of pride in the players who represented New Zealand at this event. There were many outstanding performances, most of which were from players who are still growing and developing as high performance athletes, and are at an age where they can/will be four years stronger, wiser and in the prime years of their career at the Gold Coast Games in 2018. Many of the Glasgow medal winning players & pairings (in particular from England, Malaysia & Australia) will be beyond their prime, or retired by then.

In summary, an amazing event to be part of, with an exceptional group of players who worked hard as a team both on and off the court. Dave Clarke's management skills and knowledge of the game of doubles was invaluable both in preparation and during the event. Well done everyone, you did me, Squash New Zealand and the nation very proud!

OCEANIA REPORT

The Oceania Squash Federation (OSF) continues to coordinate and promote the sport throughout Oceania, in association with its member countries.

OSF entered its 23rd year of operation with positive signs for the future of Squash in the region. OSF was delighted to accept the Tahiti Squash Federation as a Provisional Member in 2014. This brings our membership to ten countries/territories (Australia, Cook Islands, Fiji, New Caledonia, New Zealand, Norfolk Island, Papua New Guinea, Samoa, Vanuatu and Tahiti).

There are over 700 squash centres spread throughout the Oceania Region attracting in excess of 33,000 players who compete in regular weekly competitions. In addition to these there are many more players who play squash with their family and friends recreationally.

Squash enthusiasts have had the opportunity to compete in a range of tournaments, elite to juniors, across the Region. The Australian Squash Tour continued to attract players from across the globe and there has been continuing development of events across the Region with major tournaments being held in Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, Norfolk Island, Cook Islands, New Caledonia and Tahiti.

Oceania Regional Championships were a major focus of the Federation during the year.

Norfolk Island hosted the 2013 Oceania Closed Championships. These Championships are exclusive of Australia and New Zealand to allow the smaller island nations the opportunity to compete at an international level (sometimes for the first time outside their own country) and assist in securing funding for their players to develop their game further. Once again New Caledonia proved too strong for the other countries competing, although Samoa was close to causing an upset in the Men's Team Event.

Papua New Guinea will host the 2015 Oceania Closed Championships to be held in conjunction with the Pacific Games. Three new state-of-the-art courts (convertible to two doubles courts) will be built in Port Moresby for the event and it is anticipated that all of our smaller island nations who are eligible to compete will be participating.

Low Wee Wern signs autographs for young PNG fans

The 20th Oceania Masters Championships were also held on Norfolk Island in late 2013. This is a well established annual championship which attracts players from across the Region, including Australia and New Zealand. The 2014 21st Oceania Masters Championships will be held in October in conjunction with the Alice Springs Masters Games, a long running annual multi-sport Masters competition held in central Australia.

The 2014 Oceania Junior Championships, held on the Gold Coast in Australia, was very successful with in excess of 150 junior players from 10 to 19 years of age competing over 4 days. In conjunction with this event New Zealand and Australia played a Junior Test Series as part of their junior development programs to give junior players further exposure to international competition.

The 2015 Oceania Junior Championships will be held in Invercargill, New Zealand forming a mini-series including the Australian and NZ Junior Opens.

The Oceania Region had strong representation at the recent Glasgow Commonwealth Games with Australia taking home 2 gold and 1 bronze and New Zealand a bronze medal. Players from Papua New Guinea and Norfolk Island also competed.

Likewise at the World Masters Squash Championships in Hong Kong, Oceania was well represented with players from the Region taking 8 Gold, 7 Silver and 6 bronze.

Oceania will be hosting the Commonwealth Youth Games in Samoa in 2015 and we look forward to strong representation from our up-and-coming juniors.

Oceania is fortunate to have a number of highly qualified referees including 5 World Accredited Referees who make a considerable contribution to the ongoing development of 'The Rules of Squash'. After many years as the OSF Refereeing Coordinator, Mrs. Chris Sinclair has advised her resignation from the position. OSF thank Chris for her many years of dedication to refereeing in the Oceania Region.

OSF wish to take this opportunity to thank the WSF for choosing to host their annual Ambassadors Program in Papua New Guinea. This was a very successful event with Cameron Pilley and Low Wee Wern spearheading the program. In addition to staging exhibition matches and running clinics with school children they also trained with players from the PNG national squad. This experience was no doubt invaluable to the PNG players who competed at the recent Commonwealth Games.

Oceania Squash remains committed to fostering and promoting squash in the Oceania Region and supporting WSF in the governing and development of squash across the world.

PSA REPORT

2014 saw Squash City Invercargill join existing hosts SquashGym Palmerston North and Burnside/Squashways in the New Zealand PSA tour. This created a three week circuit through New Zealand, attracting an incredibly strong cohort of professional players.

- Fitzherbert Rowe Lawyers New Zealand International Classic (PSA US$10,000) hosted by SquashGym Palmerston North;
- Doubledot Media Christchurch International Open (PSA US$5,000) hosted by Burnside Squash Club; and
- Invercargill Licensing Trust NZ Southern Open (PSA US$15,000) hosted by Squash City Invercargill.

Hosting professional events on New Zealand shores provides a variety of benefits to squash in New Zealand. Most importantly, it boosts exposure for the sport and provides invaluable opportunities to gain media attention. It affords gilt-edged chances to New Zealand's professional (and aspiring professional) players to earn world ranking points on their home soil, with home crowd support (an advantage that cannot be underestimated). The series also creates development opportunities for New Zealand's coaches and referees, who are able to observe and officiate some of the best players in the world. Finally, there are a variety of intangible benefits related to the aspiring players and juniors who are able to watch, and be inspired by, some of the world's best players. In many cases the professionals form relationships with clubs and particular players while billeted with families. The benefits of these relationships can only be guessed at, but hopefully will be seen as future generations of New Zealand squash players thrive and succeed.

Squash New Zealand is heavily indebted to the host clubs of these events, and particularly the tournament organisers/promoters who are as busy as cats on a hot tin roof coordinating the events and sourcing the significant prize money required. Additional funding sourced to enable live streaming to occur is also enormously valuable to our sport. While squash may struggle to break into mainstream media, we can create our own exposure. I would also like to give special thanks to the sponsors of the events, without whom they simply would not appear on the calendar. Fitzherbert Rowe Lawyers Manawatu, DoubleDot Media and the Invercargill Licensing Trust have been fantastic supporters of squash over a number of years, and we hope we will continue to enjoy their support in the future.

While Squash New Zealand derives considerable benefit from the existence of the series, it is unable to provide as much financial support to the event hosts as would be ideal. The work done by promoters is both significant and valuable, and I would particularly like to thank Grant Smith, Paul Growcott and Simon Flett for performing it. The addition of professional women's WSA events next year will add to their workload, but provide a fantastic result for squash in New Zealand.

The squash itself was of a very high standard. Holding the three events in consecutive weeks makes the tour more attractive to foreign players, meaning more travel to the events, thus increasing the calibre of play. Home-grown winners at two of the three events was a popular result among Kiwi fans and enthusiasts.

The NZ International Classic in Palmerston North saw Kashif Shuja and Ben Grindrod win through to the main draw from the qualifying section. Shuja delighted home fans by winning a tense and entertaining first round match over Adam Murrills of England to reach the quarter-finals – where he was joined by fellow Kiwis Martin Knight, Lance Beddoes and Paul Coll. Like a caged lion, Knight stormed to the final, accounting for compatriots Beddoes and Coll in the quarter and semi-finals, respectively. Here he produced one of the best matches of his life to comfortably seal the sixth PSA title of his career over second seeded Australian Matt Karwalski.

The Christchurch International Open was shorn of some Kiwi interest due to the TriNations Squash Doubles event in Malaysia – a Commonwealth Games preparation event with Malaysia and India. As a result, only wildcard Andrew Ellis featured in the main draw. He was joined by qualifiers Ben Grindrod and Kashif Shuja. It was left to Shuja to fly the New Zealand flag in the latter stages of the competition. After easily winning his first round match, Shuja next won a battle of PSA tour senior citizens by defeating experienced Australian Mike Corren to reach the semi-finals. Up against young Austrian Aqeel Rehman, Shuja produced some champagne squash before eventually succumbing in five games. Rehman went on to upset top-seeded Czech Jan Koukal in the final to win the third PSA title of his career.

In Invercargill, Ben Grindrod and Kashif Shuja came through qualifying to join Martin Knight, Lance Beddoes and Paul Coll in the main draw. Shuja, Beddoes and Coll progressed to the quarter-finals before succumbing, while Knight again defeated Karwalski to set up a surprise final with Australian Rex Hedrick, who upset top seeded Malaysian Mohd Nafiizwan Adnan in a marathon 94 minute semi-final. In a gruelling final Knight was as strong as a hurricane's winged force, winning in 68 minutes in straight games to notch the seventh PSA title of his career.

Squash New Zealand would once again like to thank the organisers and host clubs of these events, and is delighted to announce a strengthened support package in 2015 that will see the three events also include WSA women's professional events.

REFEREEING REPORT

This year seems to have disappeared on me, mainly due to time spent overseas on personal time. This has meant some aspects of the work ahead of us in the refereeing area of squash have not moved on as rapidly as I might have hoped. There has been progress made including...

The Referee Panel is working well and has had a personnel change for the coming year. Sandra Tinkler has resigned and Mike Jack has been invited to join the panel. The panel therefore consists of myself (Chris Buckland), Glenn Carson, Janet Udy and Mike Jack, along with Michael Pittams from Squash NZ. This panel met immediately after the Junior Nationals instead of in the new year – looking to see if an earlier meeting time (as we only meet as a group once during the year) can give us a better start to the next season. I think it certainly has shown some advantages, but not all aspects can be confirmed until the start of the next season.

National Referee numbers are an issue. Hamish Buchanan has moved to Australia, Ian Gardiner retired, and Sandra Tinker has done the same at the end of the Junior Nationals tournament just completed in early October. The latter two of these referees have given freely of their time, and Sandra in particular has been a stalwart of squash in many areas of the game. Certainly she has given exceptional service as a referee, her running of many rules evenings over many years, and supporting and advising referees over a career of some 30 years. We applaud her service to the game.

There have not been so many opportunities for referees to work elsewhere this year. I (Chris Buckland) was able to go to Palm Beach for the Trans-Tasman Junior Test Series followed by the Oceania Junior Champs back in January. Although it was good to see our juniors perform so well, refereeing 64 matches in 6 days, all in rather oppressive heat, was an interesting exercise to say the least. The other significant overseas work was of course Glenn Carson refereeing at the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow. Glenn had a great time and will now be better known by more overseas referees – an important aspect in his quest to become a WSF Referee.

The refereeing budget is a concern, just as it is in all aspects of squash funded by Squash NZ. I am finding that we are not able to send as many referees as we think desirable to those tournaments that SNZ referees are expected to cover. The addition of the PSA tournaments also added to our budgeting issues along with the reducing number of National Referees. Our number for the start of the 2015 season will be 12 active referees with the prospect of another qualifying very early in the year. There are a couple of others showing interest, but refereeing is not an area of the game to which we can easily attract newcomers. Ideas are always welcome.

The Panel has changed the requirements a little to become a District Referee, making it a little more easily attained. The intent is to try and boost DR numbers, and then work with these referees to move them up to NR ranks. We are also exploring how we might involve juniors in a refereeing mentoring programme that will eventually feed them into the senior referee ranks.

The CBTA (Competency Based Training and Assessment) aspect of becoming a National Referee has finally been settled and a number of current National Referees have already participated in this programme. Whilst current referees are choosing whether or not to go through this process (most will do so), it will be a requirement of all aspirants from now on.

National Referees officially attended the following tournaments in 2014: NZ Junior Open at Royal Oak, NZ Doubles, North Island Champs and PSA at Palmerston North, PSA at Burnside, South Island Champs and PSA at Invercargill, South Island Age Groups at Oamaru, North Island Age Groups at Hamilton, Senior Nationals at North Shore, NZ U23 Champs at Cambridge and finally the Junior Nationals at Remuera.

National Referees who attended at least one tournament this year: Chris Buckland, Glenn Carson, Heather Findlay, Jackie Hamilton, Peter Highsted, Mike Jack, Jan McAra, Ross Minehan, Dru Reid, Nichol Taylor, Sandra Tinkler, Janet Udy. Chris Sinclair and John Small from Australia also attended one tournament each as an assessor.

WORLD JUNIOR MEN'S SQUASH CHAMPS

Windhoek, Namibia 9-21 August 2014

The 2014 World Junior Boys' Championships were held in Windhoek, Namibia. The players selected to represent New Zealand at the event were:

- 1 Scott Galloway
- 2 Luke Jones
- 3 Max Trimble
- 4 Chapman Kutia

Non-travelling Reserve: Sion Wiggin

Following a long summer of training and four selection events, the players above emerged as the strongest players from the World Junior Boys' Squad, and became the New Zealand team to travel to Namibia. Because I was travelling straight from the Commonwealth Games, the boys were escorted to Namibia by Nick Mita, who was engaged by SNZ to supervise the four boys on the flights, and also assist in their acclimatisation and on court training before my arrival.

The individual event was first, and the draws were rather unfavourable to the Kiwi players! Almost every opponent seemed to be slightly stronger and more experienced than our boys. There were plenty of weaker players in the draws from the African nations, but the NZ players seemed to miss out on an opportunity to play against them and get a 'nerve settling' win on the board. The only win to talk of in the individual event was by Chapman against the Swedish number three. In order to ensure better draws for our players in future, we will continue to encourage junior players to travel to international junior events in the years leading up to their World Junior Championship year. Getting runs on the board and WSF junior ranking points can make all the difference to being seeded in the draw. Full results (in chronological order) were as follows:

Chapman Kutia lost to Bernat Jaume (ESP)
4/11, 4/11, 9/11

Scott Galloway W/O against Abubakar Adamu (NGR)

Max Trimble lost to Wayne Chenai Sithole
12/10, 4/11, 5/11, 0/11

Luke Jones lost to Iker Pajares (ESP)
9/11, 3/11, 7/11

Scott Galloway lost to Darren Chan Ti Luun (MAS)
7/11, 6/11, 8/11

Chapman Kutia lost to James Peach (ENG)
11/7, 7/11, 7/11, 7/11

Max Trimble lost to Syed Azlan Iqbal (QAT)
8/11, 1/11, 6/11

Luke Jones lost to Daniel Poleschuk (ISR)
7/11, 11/6, 10/12, 4/11

Scott Galloway lost to Derek Hsue (USA)
11/4, 8/11, 10/12, 9/11

Chapman Kutia beat Alexander Lundqvist (SWE)
11/5, 11/1, 11/4

Max Trimble lost to Tor Christoffersen (SWE)
10/12, 11/8, 9/11, 8/11

Luke Jones lost to Oisin Logan (IRE)
8/11, 11/9, 2/11, 7/11

Chapman Kutia lost to Yannik Omlor (GER)
7/11, 13/15, 6/11

With all of the Kiwis out of the individuals, we took advantage of some practice opportunities and also tried to ensure we were refreshed and refocused, ready to move forwards. Onto the teams event and we were seeded in the 16-18 category. We were in a very tough group with sixth seeds Spain, seventh seeds Finland and 19-21st seeds Sweden.

First Pool Match

Our first match was against Finland and it was our best chance (on paper) of upsetting the seedings in the pool stage. Some much better performances by the lads in this tie, but unfortunately we fell short in each of the matches.

- 1 Scott Galloway lost to Jami Aijanen
5/11, 5/11, 10/12
- 2 Luke Jones lost to Kristian Rautiainen
9/11, 13/11, 8/11, 7/11
- 3 Max Trimble lost to Miko Aijanen
11/7, 6/11, 5/11, 8/11

Second Pool Match

Next up were Spain, the strongest team in our pool. Scott was first on and put in his best performance of the event by far. His length, width and attacking game were well balanced as he pushed the Spanish number one all the way- eventually losing 11-8 in the fifth. Chapman was on next in a repeat of his first round match in the individuals. A much better, more confident performance from Chapman, but still, he went down in three games. Same story for Luke (playing the same opponent on the same court!), but this time in a dead rubber. He played well for the most part, being more aggressive as the match went on.

- 1 Scott Galloway lost to Edmon Lopez
9/11, 11/6, 8/11, 11/9, 8/11
- 2 Luke Jones lost to Iker Pajares
3/11, 10/12, 3/11
- 3 Chapman Kutia lost to Bernat Jaume
7/11, 8/11, 3/11

Third Pool Match

The final match of the pool stage was against Sweden. This match would decide who finished third in the pool, in turn influencing positions in the playoff draw. Luke got the match underway at number one string, eventually going down in a close four games. Next on was Chapman, who put in a solid performance to level the scoreboard at 1-1. All to play for in the decider as Max went on court to play the same player he had lost to in the individuals. A great performance by Max, taking a very close and tense 3-0.

- 1 Luke Jones lost to Pontus Rengbo
8/11, 11/9, 5/11, 8/11
- 2 Max Trimble beat Tor Christoffersen
16/14, 11/9, 11/9
- 3 Chapman Kutia beat Alexander Lundqvist
11/9, 11/4, 11/6

13-23 Playoff

Because we had successfully finished third in Group F, we were ensured a slightly easier match in the first playoff round. The draw saw us up against the host nation, Namibia. The match got underway and an easy win was confirmed.

- 1 Scott Galloway beat Michael Lingen
11/6, 1/11, 11/2, 11/6
- 2 Max Trimble beat Le Hugo Van Rooyen
(Dead Rubber) 11/8, 13/11
- 3 Chapman Kutia beat George Bekker
11/0, 11/1, 11/3

13-20 Playoff

Our next match was against Kuwait. This turned into a frustrating loss for the team, especially with the order in which the Kuwait team played. It was clear that their number two string player was in fact their strongest, which led to a tough opening match for Luke. Scott levelled the match with a clinical performance at number one, but Max was unable to seal the win for us in the decider.

- 1 Scott Galloway beat Ali Alqallaf
11/1, 11/4, 11/4
- 2 Luke Jones lost to Khaled Aljenaidel
4/11, 4/11, 5/11
- 3 Max Trimble lost to Mohammad Abdulaziz Al Terki 4/11, 5/11, 9/11

17-20 Playoff

Having lost to Kuwait, we were faced with the task of fighting to finish 17th at best. Our next match would be another easy one, against Zimbabwe. The lads were obviously looking to put the match against Kuwait behind them and wasted little time in easing past in three one-sided matches.

- 1 Scott Galloway beat Tafadzwa Mushunje
11/4, 11/6, 11/6

- 2 Luke Jones beat Innocent Mukumba (Dead Rubber) 11/0, 11/4
- 3 Chapman Kutia beat Bryn Turk 11/2, 11/3, 11/2

17/18 Play Off

Onto the final day of the event and our last match was to be a tough one against South Africa! We knew this would be a real tester, and it proved to be immensely close and exciting. The first match on was number one strings. Scott got off to an absolute flyer, playing one of the best games of the event for him, taking it 11-3. He then stormed to a 10-5 lead in the second before a lapse in concentration saw his opponent turn the game around with 7 points on the bounce to draw level. The next two games were nip and tuck all of the way, but Scott seemed to clip the very close first game, he pulled level at 1-1. Just like Luke, he went on to lose the third before pulling level by taking the fourth. A combination of great shot making and well-constructed rallies saw Chapman storm away quickly in the fifth and deciding game to lead 10-5. The rallies were incredibly long now and slowly but surely his opponent clawed his way back to 8-10. A couple of forced shots from Chapman and it was all square at 10-10. Again, the rallies lengthened, but the next two went the South African's way, and with them, 17th place.

- 1 Scott Galloway lost to Laurence Kuhn 11/3, 10/12, 8/11, 11/13
- 2 Luke Jones beat Aubrey Lawrence 2/11, 11/5, 6/11, 11/6, 13/11
- 3 Chapman Kutia lost to JP Van Der Merwe 9/11, 11/9, 9/11, 11/9, 10/12

This was a tough way for the event to end for the boys, especially after being so close to finishing with a win.

Understandably, the mood amongst the players was low that afternoon, but during our final team meeting in the evening I encouraged the players to reflect upon how far they had come and what they had achieved since being selected into the squad back in 2012. I would like to thank the four boys for being a good group to be away with. Although the finishing position was below what we had hoped for, they never caused me any headaches off the court. It was a pleasure to spend time with you all and get to know you better!

tin on the last few rallies of each game. 1-0 to South Africa, Luke went onto court at number two. This was an unbelievably close match with the momentum swinging one way, then the other. Having lost the first 2-11, Luke fought back to draw level at 1-1. Again, his opponent controlled the third, but Luke managed to pull level by taking the fourth. The fifth game was a real nail biter, both having match balls before Luke eventually sealed the win 13-11 in the fifth to level the tie at 1-1 and force a decider at number three string! Chapman began the match well and after losing a

NZ SQUASH HALL OF FAME

The New Zealand Squash Hall of Fame has been in existence for six years and whilst 2014 has been relatively inactive compared to previous years we can look back to the October 2013 induction ceremony held in Christchurch as one of our most successful events to date.

Held in the South Island for the first time and coinciding with the World Squash Federation AGM seven past “greats” of our sport were inducted to Honoured Member status. Past players Robyn Brownlee, Trevor Johnston, Jenny Webster, Joanne Williams and Jade Wilson were honoured alongside Rob Crothall (trainer) and Bill Murphy (administrator) in a ceremony befitting the superb venue of the Christchurch Casino. Joseph Romanos as MC and interviewer was his normal excellent self and I have no doubt the Christchurch squash fraternity which turned out in great numbers to support the event had a memorable evening. Importantly too, overseas delegates to the World Squash Federation AGM would have experienced first-hand the unique camaraderie that underpins the New Zealand squash scene.

A particularly poignant moment during the ceremony was the late Jade Wilson’s induction. In a break from their self-imposed guidelines (i.e. juniors not being considered for Hall of Fame nomination) the Hall of Fame selectors had decided that Jade’s winning of the World Junior Squash title of 1995 (and still today New Zealand’s only Junior World title) warranted its highest accolade. Jade’s mother Stephanie was present to accept the award which was fittingly presented to her by Jade’s former coach, Cantabrian Barry Mathews.

Our attention has now turned to the 2014 ceremony to be held in conjunction with the Squash NZ AGM in Auckland in late November. After considered deliberation the Hall of Fame selectors were unanimous that Bryden Clarke, one of our sports great personalities, should be elevated to Honoured Membership. Given Bryden’s colourful and exuberant personality, this promises to be a great evening.

During the year Joseph Romanos stepped down from the Hall of Fame Board. Whilst his massive contribution and advice will be sorely missed we can only be thankful for the role he has played. Joseph and Bill Murphy were the visionaries and catalysts behind the Hall of Fame and the success it has achieved to date is very much down to Joseph’s unparalleled knowledge of our sport.

My thanks once again to the HOF Management Board, Doug Lawrie, Bill Murphy, Wayne Werder and in particular Grant Smith for his skill set and enthusiasm which adds real value to the Board’s work.

NATIONAL SQUASH CENTRE

The National Squash Centre has continued its operation in a very similar manner to recent years with no major changes. The complex still enjoys reasonable local patronage and has usage by Squash Auckland, Squash NZ and College Sport including the Auckland Secondary School Championships.

The Centre continues to be well managed by Trevor Colyer who has now been in his role for over 3 years. Neven Barbour continues in his role as Executive Director which is vital to the Centre and the Trust.

A significant amount of maintenance has been carried out on the courts and building which remain of a good standard.

Subway remains as a very successful tenant and this rental enables a continuing viable business operation. The challenge remains to be profitable from the number of courts available and our inability to fund the completion of the centre as originally planned.

A major key issue for us is the planned redevelopment of Unitec and their plans for the future. Unitec have lodged substantial submissions to the proposed Auckland Unitary Plan which would convert large portions of the campus to commercial usage. We have lodged submissions as well to ensure that sport and recreation are recognised as continuing uses in any change. The Trust will continue to work closely with Unitec to endeavour to ensure our position in any future developments.

All trustees including Michael Sumpter, Susie Simcock, Margaret Cotter, Tim Marshall and Katie Bruffy continue in office.

CLUB KELBURN

Club Kelburn - 20 years on

It is over 20 years since I first took over what was then "The New Zealand Squash Centre". Within a year we had changed the name to Club Kelburn, and started down a road to be a multi-purpose club, with squash as its core business.

A lot has changed.

In 1994 there were 67 mobiles for every 100 people. Playstation had just come out. Prince Charles and Di separated. The internet was a three year old baby. "Forrest Gump" and "Friends" started. "Streets of Philadelphia" was released by Bruce Springsteen.

Our club was basically 12 squash courts and a pro shop. Payment was pay per play.

Now we have 9 squash courts, 6 gym rooms, 4 full time physios, a pro shop, sauna, 4 courts with basketball hoops, table tennis, personal training, a range of squash programs and coaching options, online shop sales, a top rate website with a virtual tour and cross-fit type classes.

Payment can now be done however the customer would like - casual, concession cards, no-contract memberships, annual fee paid up front - whatever suits. Our club is run with club software where members scan a barcoded membership card with photo ID, it manages the direct debit payments, and produces all manner of reports to help run the club, including marketing - in all sorts of ways - all year round.

Give them what they want, and they will come. So things have changed. And will continue to do so.

Our ongoing financial success has been because we have changed with the market, and tried to at least keep up, if not be at the forefront of change. And our culture at the counter is to be the friendliest club in town, and "to be the best part of your day".

This past year has been another boomer. I won't bore you with the financials, but the results have come from turning up each day, and getting the little things, as well as the big things, right. Working on the culture, day by day. Having staff that care, and treat the customers well. And as important as anything, having a very clean club.

I have had a blast developing this club for over twenty years. It feels like 5. It hasn't felt like work.

And there is a bit more juice to squeeze out of this old lemon yet!

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR 2014

Josie Fenwicke

The Thorndon Club

Josie has been instrumental in the uplift of the reputation, financial performance and overall operations of The Thorndon Club this year. She is always at the club with a smile, and has a great attitude that always gets the job done. Josie willingly lends a hand to a variety of roles at the club even when it involves sacrificing the opportunity to take the court herself.

When the Club Captain was unable to put the time and effort into the role due to work commitments, Josie stepped up to the mark and immediately volunteered to assist in the jobs usually undertaken by the Club Captain. She organised our Intraclub events, oversaw Thorndon's participation in Wellington District's Interclub, ran the Club Champs and took the lead role in running the D Grade Regional SuperChamps. All events were a great success and attracted significant praise from other clubs and participants.

In addition to the Assistant Club Captain role, Josie was instrumental in Thorndon's aim to utilise the facility more by increasing the number of private functions. The club was hired out for more than ten private events this year and Josie organised every one of them, raising over $15,000 for the club. The organisation time required prior to each event is significant and then on the day of each event, Josie would be at the club from mid-afternoon until the early hours of the morning, managing the bar and generally ensuring that the event ran smoothly for the hosts and their attendees.

Josie has used her fantastic design skills to great effect for the club this year, building a brand new website and Facebook page, which she actively maintains with regular updates, news and the occasional light-hearted post to ensure the club's digital engagement is high.

In addition to all of the voluntary hours that Josie donates to The Thorndon Club, she also helps Squash Wellington with their marketing and events. She assisted the District Association with their website upgrade, and organised the 2014 Squash Wellington AGM and prize-giving.

The Club Captain said "this year, my job would have been impossible if it weren't for Josie. Josie spends an enormous amount of time either at the club or working for the club behind the scenes. At times, her work can be invisible to the members but without her I know the club would be lost. She is an extremely valuable asset and we all highly value her dedication, passion and extreme work ethic. Josie is extremely passionate about her squash, and goes out of her way to help anyone involved in it. She is a worthy recipient of the Volunteer of the Year award".

MASTERS REPORT

The year has been one of much intensity for many of New Zealand's Masters players, with a good variety of local tournaments including an increasing emergence of doubles events, the club teams champs in Silverdale, the nationals at SquashGym, and for a small band of intrepid travellers the World Masters in Hong Kong.

National Club Masters – Silverdale

The 14 teams entered all had a great time on and off the court thanks to the superb organisational skills of Tony Forde and his Silverdale team along with active participation from all the clubs competing.

There was a preponderance of lower graded players creating some imbalance in the top draw, however this did not detract from the success of the weekend. Many of the teams entered had not heard of this event although it is on the calendar so perhaps more promotion is required along with clarification of the format. As with the Nationals, often any communication stalls at District level and does not get out to the grass roots masters players wishing to be involved.

NZ Masters – SquashGym

As usual there was fierce competition on the courts, while in true masters fashion social activity was high on the agenda. Many new friends were made, memories of past events were rekindled, and all participants took away positive vibes ensuring Masters squash will continue to thrive.

There were 180 players including some Australian visitors, and 8 teams. The largest contingent of individuals for 10 years and the most teams since 1996 which is a positive sign for Masters Squash in New Zealand.

Grant, Jill, Troy and the team ensured the week was a wonderful experience which provided magic memories for years to come, both competitive and social. During the teams event there were fitness mountains to climb, dramas to overcome, skits to embellish, boasting to perfect, injuries to avoid and stories to be told. The players and hosts ensured no stone was left unturned in our pursuit of happiness.

World Masters – Hong Kong

To the Kiwi contingent in Hong Kong, the 'Ole Blacks', for the 2014 World Squash Masters, well done for again being fantastic ambassadors for our proud country both on and off the court, a magic time was had by all at a festive venue.

Our highest female finishers were Becky Clarke & Lisa Cowlard the number 2 & 3 40+ women on the planet, and at the top of the pile, a salute to the greatest Master of 2014, Trevor Coulter, World 80+ Squash Champion, an aspiration in 4 35+ masters, and an illustration of what sport can accomplish.

Rob Roche Trophy

Below is an excerpt from the presentation of the above award:

"The player and cavalier clubsman we are honouring tonight was born in 1929, 11 years after the end of the first world war and 3 years before the great depression, therefore he is a tough but genial old rooster.

1929 makes him 85, however our oldest grade is 75+ so he is playing down a couple of grades just for the fun of it.

His main sport in his youth was hockey, and I have a 1956 black and white photo here of the team, and you can imagine who has the magic, electric smile.

He started squash around 50 and became heavily involved in the Bay District on and off the court, and was player and manager in the Bay Masters teams for about 10 years.

He has been at Remuera now for 13 years and last year won the Ray Tamati trophy for contributions to the club.

For the record Maurie has to his name 7 New Zealand titles, he was runner up in the worlds in Finland 2003, 3rd in the Worlds in Christchurch 2008, and in Sheffield won a silver medal in the doubles with this years 80+ World Masters Champion, Trevor Coulter . Imagine these two legends of the game smacking the rest of the World around as a team, with a combined age of 167.

Christian Borgvall of Sweden in action against John Saies of New Zealand at the Squash Centre in Hong Kong

Finally for all you younger ladies out there clamouring for some attention and wondering about Maurie's other talents, he is an accomplished pianist and a highly rated chef, so you can be wooed with some classical music and satiated with gourmet food prior to the main event.

Please welcome up here the legend, Maurie Peters."

CLUB OF THE YEAR 2014

SquashCity Invercargill

"For our members SquashCity is much more than just a squash club."

"It is a social hub where whole families come to both be active together and socialise"

Congratulations to SquashCity Invercargill, for winning the Squash NZ Club of the Year 2014. There are so many great things happening at the club, but we have tried to summarise them below...

"Visitors often comment on the natural friendliness and great atmosphere of the club"

SquashCity goes the 'extra mile' for new and visiting players, ensuring they are fully welcomed into the club and introduced to other members. They see the club as one big family, even acknowledging members' birthdays and other special occasions and achievements. To encourage current members to introduce others to the club they offer a special discount on their membership for each new member they bring into the club which is applied when the new member rejoins for a second year.

"We are passionate about getting people involved in squash and nurturing a love of our sport"

The club is run by dedicated volunteers, with many regularly committing more than 20 hours a week to the club. The large committee each have specific areas of responsibility with a backup volunteer for each role. The red shirts worn by the Committee (the Red Shirt Brigade) ensure visibility to all. A Volunteer of the Year Award recognises outstanding contribution and helps to make our volunteers feel appreciated.

SquashCity recognises that continued growth and development of Squash is a district wide endeavour and have worked with other clubs as well as Squash Southland to ensure our sport continues to grow. This includes lending top players to smaller clubs to ensure a strong interclub season, sharing their courts with other clubs and the District for tournaments and programmes, and participation in other clubs' tournaments.

The club has built strong relationships with key media in the region to ensure that squash is well promoted through radio, newspaper, and television coverage. The club also markets itself through a website and Facebook page.

"Success on and off the court"

The club is in a strong financial position and looks likely to stay this way for many years to come due to the foresight and hard work of all members. They are proactive about seeking sponsorship and receive funding for large events from a variety of organisations. The club has strong relationships with their sponsors, highlighted by the fact that they have supported the club for several years.

Increased participation at all levels has seen the courts in use at all times of the day with many members playing before work, during lunch hours and weekends.

Club members have had many successes at both local and national events, featuring strongly in Southland representative teams and national rankings, with one member winning the National Men's 35-39 title and another selected for the World Junior Girls' Squad.

"All programmes and events are open to all players"

To ensure members are getting value from their membership, the club offers a comprehensive range of programmes for all levels including social leagues, Ladies night, social and competitive tournaments, interclub, and an open club night every Friday with free coaching for new players. They believe that more experienced players nurturing their juniors and new players promotes participation and contributes to the belonging atmosphere of the club.

A variety of membership options provides something for everyone from the casual player to competitive, short-term members, summer subs, and a discounted rate for first-time members.

"Well known for their excellence in hosting tournaments"

By being well organised, providing great hospitality, and ensuring results are updated regularly online through the club's website, Facebook and iSquash, SquashCity have created a reputation as being great hosts. This year, they hosted the inaugural PSA Southern Open incorporating the South Island Champs, attracting 152 entries. The event was live-streamed with over 9000 online views and a full house every day. Hundreds of volunteer hours combined over months to ensure a successful event which received many positive comments and indications by players that they would return in 2015. Due to the strong media relationships, coverage of the event was high, including interviews on Cue TV and inclusion in the NZ Women's Weekly website.

"A modern facility that welcomes members and visitors alike"

SquashCity provides modern facilities with continuous gas hot water, effective heating systems, a commercial grade kitchen, lowering tins for international events, a comfortable lounge and bar with a wide range of food and beverages available. Strategic signwriting provides maximum visibility of the club. Recent facility refurbishments include exterior drainage work to prevent flooding, kitchen improvements, and a new entry.

They were the first club in New Zealand to go live with the iSquash Pay2Play system that allows people to play on a casual basis, paying online.

"A positive emphasis on coaching and juniors ensures sustainability"

The club believes in sustainability through coaching, with 33 club members participating in the national coach development framework and three coaches working at a regional high performance level. They also have members working towards their District Referee qualification and assisting Squash Southland in the delivery of Rules workshops in clubs throughout the district.

The club actively encourages all their junior players to participate in all local tournaments focussing on participation so as to build squash throughout Southland. New junior players joining the club through the season were invited to join teams and participate in this, playing on a rotating basis to ensure everyone is able to experience competitive matches.

"As a club we strongly believe that hard work and commitment to developing squash will see the sport continue to grow in popularity. The publicity we have generated this year keeps the sport visible in the community and we hope this will benefit all clubs throughout Southland and New Zealand."

New Zealand Squash (Inc)

Notes to the Financial Accounts for the year ended 30 September 2014

1 - Accounting Policies

Statement of Accounting Policies

Reporting Entity

New Zealand Squash (Inc) is the New Zealand national sporting organisation responsible for the control, advancement and regulation of the game of squash throughout New Zealand. New Zealand Squash (Inc) is incorporated under the Incorporated Societies Act 1908.

Basis of Preparation

The Association qualifies for differential reporting as it is not publicly accountable and does not qualify as "large", as defined within the New Zealand Institute of Chartered Accountants framework for differential reporting. The entity has taken advantage of all the differential reporting exemptions available to it.

These special purpose accounts are prepared primarily for members.

Measurement Base

The accounting principles recognised as appropriate for the measurement and reporting of earnings and financial position on an historical cost basis have been followed. Accrual accounting is used to match income and expenditure.

Specific Accounting Policies

The following specific accounting policies which materially affect the measurement of financial performance and of financial position have been applied:

Operating Leases

Operating lease payments, where the lessors effectively retain substantially all the risks and benefits of ownership of the leased items, are recognised in the determination of operating profit in equal instalments over the term of the lease (refer Note 12).

Inventory

Inventory for New Zealand Squash has been valued at average cost or cost. Club Kelburn inventory is valued on a weighted average basis.

Goods & Services Tax

The financial statements have been prepared on a GST exclusive basis. Accounts Receivable and Accounts Payable are stated inclusive of GST.

Income Tax

New Zealand Squash Inc is exempt for Income Tax as an amateur sports club, under Income Tax Act 2007, No 97, s CW 46.

Fixed Assets

All fixed assets are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation to date.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated on a diminishing value basis or straight-line method on all properties. Some plant and equipments are provided at rates that will write-off the cost of the assets to their estimated residual values over their useful lives. The associated depreciation rates for each class of assets are as follows:

Buildings & Improvements	3.6% - 31.2%
Motor Vehicles	20.0% - 30.0%
Office Equipment	10.0% - 50.0%
Plant & Equipment	9.0% - 60.0%
Software	10.0% - 50.0%
Sports Equipment	10.0% - 80.4%

Investments

Investments are loans advanced to clubs for renovations and development and are stated at cost less any provisions or write-offs (refer Note 5).

Foreign Currencies

Transactions in foreign currencies are converted at the New Zealand rate of exchange at the date of the transaction.

At balance date foreign monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the closing rate, and exchange variations arising from these transactions are included in the statement of financial performance as operating items.

Changes in Accounting Policies

There have been no changes in accounting policies. All policies have been applied on a basis consistent with those used in previous years.

2 - Inventory Commitments

Some inventories are pledged as security for liabilities. Inventory is subject to retention of title clauses.

INDEPENDENT AUDIT REPORT

To the Members of New Zealand Squash Incorporated

We have audited the special purpose financial statements of New Zealand Squash Incorporated on pages 42 to 48 which comprise the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at 30 September 2014, and the Consolidated Statement of Financial Performance, Consolidated Statement of Movement of Equity for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

NEW ZEALAND SQUASH INCORPORATED BOARD RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The board is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand and for such internal control as the board determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (New Zealand).

Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditors considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Other than in our capacity as auditor we have no relationship with, or interests in, New Zealand Squash Incorporated.

Basis for Qualified Opinion on Financial Position and Financial Performance

In common with organisations of similar nature, control over income in Club Kelburn prior its being recorded is limited, and no practical audit procedure exist to determine the effect of this limited control.

Qualified Opinion on Financial Position and Financial Performance

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, the special purpose financial statements on pages 42 to 48 present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of New Zealand Squash Incorporated as at 30 September 2014, and its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand.
